Discover seamless integration with your core HCM solution for accelerated organizational design.

Power of Seamless Integration

Enterprise businesses need direct access to their dynamic workforce data to predict and plan for the future. Disconnected software gives only snapshots of the organization, lacks the capability to scale with the business, and amplifies operational inefficiencies associated with the manipulation and cleansing of data. The inadequacies of disconnected software like excel and basic Org Charting options become even more problematic during large-scale transformations such as reorganizations, RIF's, and M&A's.

Nakisa Hanelly is an integrated cloud solution for organizational design that leverages data from your existing HCM system. Hanelly provides intuitive organizational design to streamline your complex business processes and enable real-time, collaborative scenario-building.

Seamless integration can dramatically decrease the time-spent and reduce business costs of implementing change. Whether that change is a merger or acquisition, reorganization or even reduction in force (RIF), with Hanelly and its integration capability, change is no longer a challenge.
